While the National Tornado Summit focuses on issues related to high wind and hail storms, the Disaster Symposium turns the spotlight to other disasters. This optional preconference event is for insurance professionals, emergency managers and first responders. For 2017, the three-hour Symposium will address earthquakes, wildfires, terrorist attacks and search and rescue operations. For a detailed agenda, click here. The Disaster Symposium is only open to attendees of the National Tornado Summit.

TRACK 1

Suggested for insurance producers and adjusters, this track addresses the pitfalls of adjusting residential earthquake insurance claims. Expert Dan Dyce gives insurance professionals the knowledge they need to effectively handle the sticky situations becoming all too common. Attendees will also hear from the CEO of the California Earthquake Authority. Licensed producers and adjusters can receive three hours of continuing education credit. 1:00 - 1:50 – The Economics of the “Big Shake” – Causes, Contracts and Reconstructs

2:00 - 2:50 – Earthquakes – Proper Evaluation and Claim Handling

3:00 - 3:50 – From the Midwest to the West Coast: How Earthquakes are Shaking Up Insurance

TRACK 2

This track gives emergency managers and first responders the tools they need to handle major disasters. Experts in fire management, search and rescue and emergency management will share valuable information to better prepare your community for its next disaster.

1:00 - 1:50 – Active Threat: Assessing Threats and Response

2:00 - 2:50 – Chaos Control: Wildfire Preparation and Evacuation Plans

3:00 - 3:50 – Disaster Area Search & Rescue

Note: Disaster Symposium registrants may attend any session. However, insurance producers and adjusters requesting CE credit must attend all three earthquake sessions to receive credit.
