In 2018, the National Tornado Summit brings the discussion of disasters and emergency management to a whole new level. You’ve asked for it, so new this year the Disaster Symposium will be available to ALL NTS attendees. We’ve added a Disaster track to the agenda so we can bring even more lessons, case studies, education and experience to the National Tornado Summit.

We believe the strategies for preparing for and responding to various disasters is inherently the same. We must anticipate, develop and plan for known threats and work more efficiently to respond to the victims and communities affected in the wake of disaster.

We hope you enjoy the new content and that it helps all of us better prepare for the next tornado, earthquake, hurricane, wildfire or act of violence that could occur.
